The sensor is not sensitive enough

The water should pour out when the hand is right below the faucet.

The hand needs to be more closer.
The distance from button to door is too far.
The hidden Outlet: hard to use it.
The bad design and location for the extinguisher.

Hard to recognize it as an extinguisher container and difficult to access.
Because of the purpose for room, it would be better the table has wheels which can be locked.
The location of the Emergency phone is too far low.
Only good for smokers.

The ashtray is too close from the door so that non-smokers suffer with the cigarette smoke.
The location is mainly used for studying but there is no outlet for computers.
Most of people who used the door go to the labs. However, because of the bad design, everyone must go around to get the labs.
In case of emergency, most people push a door to get outside. However, they must pull this door, for the case.