This program analyzes emails on yearly bases. Each line represents the number of emails received that day. The brighter the color, the lively the conversation is; in this case, more emails received from the same person. When a line is selected from the left chart, it shows the emails received on that day according to the time it is received. By clicking on the email title, you can see the content.