Cell Phone Bracelet

The cell phone is for young women in their 20s. Women do not place cell phones on their belts or in their pockets. It is commonly placed in a handbag, where it is commonly lost. In addition, a cell phone is commonly used as a watch to tell time.

This cell phone is flexible and can be turned into a watch/bracelet.

The phone is thin and long. It can be curved to be worn around the wrist.

The phone can be worn like a watch. Many people use it as their source to find time.
